

The 2003 EU Communications Regulatory Framework – The EU Experience and Implications for New Member States - Le cadre européen 2003 de régulation des télécommunications - l'expérience européenne et les implications pour les nouveaux Etats membres, AIJA : Vilnius, 2004, powerpoint presentations), 213 pages – 100 EUR

KLOTZ Robert, Enabling Competition in the Telecommunication Sector- The New Regulatory Framework and EU Antitrust Enforcement, 13 p.

LAMANAUSKAS Tomas, The implementation of the Regulatory Framework in Lithuania, 33 p.

OZOLA Zita, Before and after the Implementation – Decrease or Increase of Regulation ?, 8 p.

SLEKYTE Jurgita, Decrease or Increase of Regulation ?, 4p.

KROEBER-RIEL Annette, Before and after the implementation – Decrease or Increase of Regulation? The situation in Germany, 7 p.

HOLM Peter, New Electronic Communications Act, 7 p.

GARZANITI Laurent, The New Concept of Significant Market Power (SMP) – Market definition, SMP designation and Specific Obligations, 17 p.

GAUMBIS Jaunius, Practical Aspects of SMP Designations and Implementation of Specific Obligations – The perspective of a “New EU Member State”, 15 p.

VUORI Kristiina, Practical Aspects of SMP Designations and Implementation of Specific Obligations – The perspective of an “Old EU Member State”, 18 p.

GUDELYTE-HARVEY Egle, Access and Interconnection under the New Regulatory Regime – Opportunities and Challenges for Network Operators, 18 p.

VIRTMANIS Andris, Recent Regulatory Actions in Latvia, 18 p.

DALMA Gulyas, The next steps to an efficient communication market in the new member states, 12 p.

GROEBEL Annegret, The ERG Common Position on Remedies in the NRF, 20 p.

DI MAURO Luca, Coordination of Regulatory Actions at the EU and National Levels : First Experiences, 23 p.